Georgia is a state with a rich history, and with that history comes a wealth of ghost stories. From the mountains to the coast, there are countless tales of haunted places, strange phenomena, and unexplained mysteries. In this series, we will explore some of the most famous and fascinating haunted stories from the Peach State.

The Fox Theatre in Atlanta

The Fox Theatre in Atlanta is one of the most iconic landmarks in the city. It was built in 1929 and has been host to countless shows and events over the years. But the Fox Theatre is also said to be haunted by several ghosts, including the ghost of a young woman who died in the theatre in 1936.

The most common ghost sighting at the Fox Theatre is that of a young woman in a white dress. She is often seen wandering the hallways of the theatre or sitting in the balcony. Some people believe that she is the ghost of a young woman who died in the theatre in 1936. On the night of her death, she was attending a show with her boyfriend when she suddenly collapsed and died. Her boyfriend was so distraught that he jumped to his death from the balcony.

The ghost of the young woman is said to be harmless, but she is often seen crying or looking lost. Some people believe that she is searching for her boyfriend or trying to find her way out of the theatre.

The Savannah Theatre in Savannah

The Savannah Theatre in Savannah is another historic theatre that is said to be haunted. The theatre was built in 1818 and has been host to countless shows and events over the years. But the Savannah Theatre is also said to be haunted by several ghosts, including the ghost of a young boy who died in the theatre in 1821.

The most common ghost sighting at the Savannah Theatre is that of a young boy in a blue shirt. He is often seen playing in the aisles of the theatre or sitting in the balcony. Some people believe that he is the ghost of a young boy who died in the theatre in 1821. On the night of his death, he was attending a show with his family when he suddenly collapsed and died.

The ghost of the young boy is said to be harmless, but he is often seen crying or looking lost. Some people believe that he is searching for his family or trying to find his way out of the theatre.

The Sorrel-Weed House in Savannah
