Garry Vaux is a Canadian television producer and director who has worked on some of the most iconic children's shows of all time, including The Littlest Pet Shop, Care Bears, and Strawberry Shortcake. In this article, we'll take a look back at Vaux's career and some of his most memorable work.

Early Life and Career

Garry Vaux was born in Toronto, Canada in 1946. He began his career in the entertainment industry as a puppeteer, working on shows such as Sesame Street and The Muppet Show. In the early 1980s, Vaux transitioned to television production, working as a producer on shows such as Fraggle Rock and ALF.

The Littlest Pet Shop

In 1985, Vaux created the animated series The Littlest Pet Shop. The show was based on the popular toy line of the same name, and it followed the adventures of a group of pets who lived in a pet shop. The show was a huge success, and it ran for seven seasons.

Care Bears

In 1986, Vaux created the animated series Care Bears. The show was based on the popular line of greeting cards and stuffed animals of the same name, and it followed the adventures of a group of bears who lived in Care-a-Lot. The show was a huge success, and it ran for nine seasons.

Strawberry Shortcake

In 1987, Vaux created the animated series Strawberry Shortcake. The show was based on the popular line of dolls and toys of the same name, and it followed the adventures of a group of friends who lived in Strawberryland. The show was a huge success, and it ran for seven seasons.

Later Career

In the late 1990s, Vaux left the children's television industry to focus on other projects. He has since worked on a variety of projects, including the animated series Cyberchase and the live-action series Dino Dan.

Legacy

Garry Vaux is one of the most successful children's television producers of all time. His shows have entertained and educated generations of children, and they continue to be popular today. Vaux's legacy will continue to live on for many years to come.
