The Art of Wirework

Wirework is an ancient art form that has been used for centuries to create intricate and beautiful objects. In the hands of our skilled artisans, wire transforms into delicate tendrils that weave around and accentuate the vibrant colors and patterns of art glass.

Each twist and turn of the wire is cuidadosamente executed, creating a harmonious balance between strength and fluidity. The result is a captivating interplay of textures and shapes that adds depth and dimension to our jewelry.

Vibrant Art Glass

The art glass used in Totally Twisted jewelry is a vibrant palette of colors and patterns that captures the beauty of nature and the imagination. Our artisans carefully select each piece of glass, ensuring that its unique characteristics complement the intricate wirework.

From shimmering dichroic glass to textured fused glass, the variety of art glass used in our collection ensures that there is a piece to suit every taste
