Materials You'll Need

- Plastic bags (any type will do)
- Scissors
- Iron (optional)
- Parchment paper (optional)

Step-by-Step Instructions

1. Cut the plastic bags into strips. The width of the strips will determine the size of the lace stitches. For small stitches, cut the strips into 1/4-inch wide strips. For larger stitches, cut the strips into 1/2-inch wide strips.
2. Tie the strips together. Take two strips of plastic and tie them together in a square knot. Repeat this process until you have a long chain of knots.
3. Create the lace stitches. To create a lace stitch, take the left-hand strip of plastic and pass it over the right-hand strip. Then, take the right-hand strip and pass it under the left-hand strip. Pull the strips tight to create a knot.
4. Continue creating lace stitches. Continue creating lace stitches until you have reached the desired length of lace.
5. Iron the lace (optional). If you want to give the lace a more polished look, you can iron it. Place a piece of parchment paper over the lace and iron it on a low heat setting.
