The Zender Abarth 500 Corsa Stradale Concept is a stunning high-performance version of the iconic Abarth 500. Unveiled at the 2018 Geneva Motor Show, the Corsa Stradale Concept showcases Zender's expertise in automotive design and engineering.

Exterior Design

The Corsa Stradale Concept features a number of aggressive design cues that set it apart from the standard Abarth 500. The most striking feature is the widebody kit, which gives the car a muscular and imposing stance. The front bumper has been redesigned with a large air intake and a splitter, while the rear bumper features a diffuser and a pair of quad exhaust tips.

The car also features a set of 19-inch alloy wheels and a lowered suspension.

Interior Design

The interior of the Corsa Stradale Concept has been stripped down and race-inspired. The seats have been replaced with lightweight racing seats, and the dashboard has been fitted with a carbon fiber steering wheel and a digital instrument cluster. The car also features a roll cage for added safety.

Powertrain

The Corsa Stradale Concept is powered by a tuned version of the Abarth 500's 1.4-liter turbocharged engine. The engine has been upgraded with a number of performance parts, including a larger turbocharger, a high-flow intake, and a race-tuned exhaust system. The engine now produces 240 horsepower and 270 lb-ft of torque, which is a significant increase over the standard Abarth 500's output of 165 horsepower and 184 lb-ft of torque.

Performance

The Corsa Stradale Concept's performance is nothing short of impressive. The car can accelerate from 0-60 mph in just 5.5 seconds, and it has a top speed of 160 mph. The car's handling has also been improved, thanks to the upgraded suspension and the wider tires.

The Zender Abarth 500 Corsa Stradale Concept is a stunning high-performance version of the iconic Abarth 500. The car's aggressive design, race-inspired interior, and powerful engine make it a true standout. While the Corsa Stradale Concept is just a concept car at this point, it is clear that Zender has the potential to create a truly special production car.
